APPENDIX 1: COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

SP is committed to ensuring the safety and welfare of all children with whom we work and has put in place a complaint procedure to cover any situations which may arise, when service users (including children and their parents/guardians) are not satisfied with the way they were treated by SP staff.

Complaint procedure:

In case, service users are not happy with a programme or want to express their dissatisfaction with it, they can contact a programme manager. They have two-stage complaint procedure available. They are also familiarised with the fact that programme implementers are obliged to respect the principles of The Code of Ethical Principles in Social Protection and about the possibility to object as defined in the Article 94, of the Social Security Act. Possibilities and the ways of making a complaint are presented to service users by programme professional staff. The procedures are properly displayed in the premises where programmes and activities take place and available on the website of the Slovene Philanthropy too.

1. In the first stage, a user or his/her legal representative has a possibility to make a written complaint to the head of the Slovene Philanthropy i.e. to the executive director. The executive director is to make a written response proposing a solution or providing an explanation. If the user is not happy with the provided explanation or the proposed solution, in the second stage of the complaint procedure, he or she has the possibility, readdress his/her complaint and appeal to the Slovenian Philanthropy Managing Board, who pass it on to the Court of Honour to decide on the solution. The Court of Honour decides under the procedure laid down in Article 18 of the Statute of the Slovene Philanthropy.
2. If the user or his legal representative's complaint fails, or he or she is still not satisfied with the service or with the work and procedures by programme implementers, based on Article 105 of the Social Security Act, he or she can make a request or initiate an extraordinary inspection. The request shall be submitted to the following address: Labour Inspectorate of the Republic of Slovenia – Inspection for Social Affairs, Verovškova 64a, 1000 Ljubljana.
3. In case of dissatisfaction with the offered services, service users or their legal representatives have also possibility to share comments, opinions and suggestions also with the Social Chamber of Slovenia, Koseška cesta 8, 1000 Ljubljana and inquiry about possible programme implementers noncompliance with The Code of Ethical Principles in Social Protection.
4. Whenever a complaint by a service user or his legal representative is decided upon by an administrative decision, the user or his/her legal representative can make a complaint or objection in accordance with the remedies that are stated therein. Same procedures can be applied in the case the competent authority of the application does not make its decision within the legally defined deadline.

Service users who work in the programme as volunteers have an Ethical Commission at disposal. The Ethical Commission is an independent body composed of various voluntary organizations representatives that operates independently and is not part of the Association. Complaints, opinions or observations can be made directly to the Ethical Commission, and all service users have to be informed about that. The Ethical Codex of the Organised Volunteering was adopted at the 5th Slovenian Congress of Volunteering, 13 - 14 January 2006 in Sežana and the Ethical Commission founded too.

Prior to inclusion in a programme, an introductory talk will be made with each service user to assess their needs for treatment and to familiarize them with their rights. The preliminary talks will serve as the basis for treatment planning. Service users requiring more than one-time treatment i.e requiring longer term treatment and inclusion in a programme will be asked to sign a written agreement for that.
